

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN

React & Flutter

React Native is developed and managed by Facebook and first released in 2015.

Flutter is developed and managed by Google and first released in 2017.

React Native is an open-source library used to build cross platform mobile applications.

Flutter is an open-source Framework used to build cross platform mobile applications.

React Native uses JavaScript to develop apps and offers seamless UX via communicating with native platform.

Flutter uses Dart to develop apps and offers rich set of customized widgets to build attractive UX.

React Native has 105K stars on Github and has very strong community support.
It is mature than Flutter.

Flutter has 145K stars on Github and offers less community support. It is getting popular day by day.

React Native is used by Facebook, Instagram, Skype, Walmart etc.

Flutter is used by Google, Alibaba, Appstore, Apptree etc.

Renowned Applications Built on React Native

Uber Eats

Pinterest

Skype

Walmart

Discord

Tesla

Bloomberg

Artsy

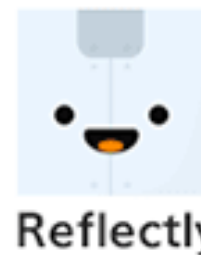

Myntra

Airbnb

Apps Built using Flutter

Thanks for reading !

Follow my profile for more coding related contents

Like

Comment

Share

@Aakash Kanojiya